

FST21 America re-organizing for growth

FST21, a leading provider of secure, intelligent controlled access and automation solutions and services, today announced the appointment of Mr. Shai Anbar to the position of Chief Executive Officer of FST21, America.

In his 20-year career in the security industry, including seventeen with Brinks Incorporated, Shai played a key role in the setup and development of startup operations around the world, and has launched new business lines in the secure logistics and information protection arena. Shai earned a B.A. from Rutgers University in Camden, NJ and a Masters degree in Philosophy from Temple University in Philadelphia. As president of FST21 America, Shai leads the operational, technical, sales and marketing efforts in the Americas, and is part of the Company's management team that drives strategic planning, global operations and key growth initiatives.

Avi Lupo will step into the role of Senior Vice President, Sales and Marketing, and will report to Shai. In this capacity, he'll be focusing on enhancing customer relationships and developing new business.

"We are very excited about the new organizational structure", said Major General (Res) Aharon Zeevi-Farkash, Founder and President of FST21. "These changes are driven by our growth and by our strategic objectives, and will benefit the Company as well as our customers and partners".
